Andrew Lessman's POSITIVE PASSAGE delivers the highest quality standardized extracts of phytonutrients and complementary nutrients to help support a healthy response and maintain a natural balance during and throughout the "change of life". It is designed to naturally support a woman's coping with the numerous manifestations of these changes. Positive Passage brings together ingredients that have been tested by time and used throughout the world. Dong Quai is an ancient herb highly prized and regarded for its impact on the manifestations of "change of life" in traditional Oriental medicine. Another herb, Black Cohosh, although originally used by the Native Americans, is now the most popular "change of life" product used in Germany. We also include the herb Vitex Agnus Castus, which, along with Black Cohosh, is recognized by the German Commission E Monographs as "indicated and approved" for "change of life" manifestations. Positive Passage also supplies a standardized extract of Soy since the natural phytoestrogens derived from Soy have been employed for centuries in Asia to naturally support and balance a woman's hormone levels. We have combined these renowned, traditional herbs with synergistic B-Complex vitamins and Magnesium to further enhance the beneficial properties of Positive Passage.
